

Guardian Defense Shield

The Guardian Defense Shield (GDS) is an ultra-lite ambidextrous design that allows its operator to effectively deploy both a handgun and/or long gun with little or no reduction in effective tactical speed. When deployed properly, its unique design provides substantial frontal facial, throat, chest, under arm, and arm protection. It is light enough to capitalize on your autonomic startle-flinch response for protection and provides self-defense from animal, blunt force, edged, and ballistic attacks.
